General Limited Warranty FAQs

Are Shipping Costs covered in the Limited Parts Warranty?

The Limited Parts Warranty does NOT cover ANY shipping costs.

Are Labor Costs covered in the Limited Parts Warranty?

The Limited Parts Warranty does NOT cover ANY labor costs or expenses for service, nor for removing or reinstalling parts.

Does Rheem approve any online resellers of HVAC equipment?

Rheem does not endorse, approve or certify any online sales of its products through auction websites, online retailers, liquidators or any other method of online sales direct to consumers without an in-person sales visit, inspection, and installation by a qualified, trained HVAC professional. Rheem published warranties do NOT cover any HVAC equipment sold in this manner.

Is the Limited Parts Warranty transferable to subsequent homeowners?

The conditional portion of the Limited Parts Warranty is NOT transferable. Subsequent homeowners do have the remaining balance of the original base Limited Parts Warranty.

Why are homeowners required to register equipment for certain conditional warranties within 60 days from installation or closing of the purchase of their residence?

Registration of equipment provides Rheem with clear effective dates for the warranty, and provides homeowners with clear information as to the timing of their protection. The 60 day registration period begins at; the replacement date as indicated on the dealer invoice, or the purchase closing date of a new home.

Can equipment be registered after 60 days from installation or closing date of residence purchase?

Consumers are encouraged to register their equipment even if it is after the 60 day registration period. If registration occurs after the 60 day registration period, then the base Limited Parts Warranty terms and conditions may apply.

How do customers register equipment?

Customers can register equipment online at www.RegisterMyUnit.com. A confirmation email will be sent to the homeowner's email address that was provided during registration.

What information does the homeowner need to register equipment?

- Model number of each unit (indoor & outdoor models)
- Serial number of each unit (indoor & outdoor models)
- Date of Installation
- Homeowner's Name & Address (where equipment is installed)
- Contractor's Name, Address & Phone Number
- Confirmation of Homeowner's email address

Who should the homeowner contact if they have any questions or are having problems with the online registration system or process?

Homeowners should contact the installing contractor, who will work through their local Rheem distributor to solve any problems concerning online registration or to answer any general questions.

In reference to conditions that require the outdoor model to be installed as part of a properly matched system as specified by the Air Conditioning, Heating & Refrigeration Institute (AHRI), does this apply to both condensing units and heat pumps?

Yes, this condition applies to both condensing units and heat pumps; however, there is a difference. Covered condensing units must be part of a properly matched system as specified by AHRI. Covered heat pumps must be part of a properly matched system as specified by Rheem.

What is the definition of a "residential application"?

A residential application is defined as any single-family dwelling, which includes apartments, condominiums, duplexes and homes.

For multi-family housing, what information does a property manager need in order to register equipment?

- Project/Property Name
- Unique address: including building, unit or apartment number for each installation
- Model number of each unit (indoor & outdoor models)
- Serial number of each unit (indoor & outdoor models)
- Date of installation
- Contractor's Name, Address and Phone Number
- Confirmation of Property Manager's email address

Do installations in multi-family housing qualify for Conditional Unit Replacement Warranties?

No, only installations in owner-occupied single family dwellings qualify for Conditional Unit Replacement Warranties.
